Charles Darwin

Charles Robert Darwin was a British naturalist and biologist known for his theory of evolution and his understanding of the process of natural selection. In 1831, he embarked on a five-year voyage around the world on the HMS Beagle, during which time his studies of various plants and led him to formulate his theories. In 1859, he published his landmark book: "On the Origin of Species".

Charles Darwin was born on February 12, 1809, in the tiny merchant town of Shrewsbury, England. A child of wealth and privilege who loved to explore nature, Darwin was the second youngest of six kids.

On December 27, 1831, the ship named "HMS Beagle" launched its voyage around the world with Darwin aboard. Over the course of the trip, Darwin collected a variety of natural specimens, including birds, plants and fossils.

The trip had a monumental effect on Darwin's view of natural history. He began to develop a revolutionary theory about the origin of living beings that ran contrary to the popular view of other naturalists at the time.

In the next century, DNA studies provided scientific evidence for Darwin's theory of evolution. However, controversy surrounding its conflict with Creationism — the religious view that all of nature was born of God — is still found among some people today.

1.-Who was Charles Darwin?

2.-How long time did his voyage take?

3.-What 's the book name he published in 1859?

4.-When was Darwin born?

5.-What did Darwin collect during his trip around the world?

6.- Through which his theory of evolution was evidenced?
